

2126 - Bachelor of Interior Architecture (Version 6)

(Course Structure - The course consists of the following areas of study:

(a) Design studios (72 points)

This is the main study of the course. There are design studios at each level of the course.

(b) Studio specialisation (12 points)

These include the following core units: 'Communication methods' and 'Furniture 1'.

(c) Technology (36 points)

These include construction and materials, structures and services units which provide the core of the technical support studies. The theory covered in these units is also applied in the studio project work.

(d) Theory of art and design (18 points)

Students study a minimum of three theory, context and cultural units in art and design.

(e) Drawing and visual structures (6 points)

Students take one 6-point unit in the first year. This study is concerned with the development of perception, communication, and visual concepts, primarily using drawing media. Further drawing is available as an elective unit.

(f) Digital imaging (18 points)

Students take the faculty's common unit, 'Digital imaging'. Students later take two core units in interiors computing.

(g) Professional practice (6 points)

This study is focused on the business practice aspects of interior architecture and design.

(h) Industrial collaboration and experience (0 points)

At the commencement of fourth year, students take a period of approximately six weeks of work in an interior architecture studio or related practice or commercial organisation. In many instances, this will be related to the specialist practice area which they intend to enter as professional graduates. It is intended that in most instances students will establish an ongoing collaboration with an industry partner.

(i) Students select one of these strands in fourth year (12 points)

Either the preparation for higher degree strand:

- Research methods in art and design, and
- Research seminar in art and design or the professional practice strand:

- Design research methods and seminar, and
- An approved elective

(j) Electives (12 to 18 points)

Elective studies are selected in consultation with the course coordinator. Units will generally be taken from those available within the Faculty of Art and Design, but units offered elsewhere in the university are also available.

(k) Occupational health and safety (0 points)

A compulsory health and safety unit which deals with issues relevant to art and design.
